Love Doesn't Live Here Anymore

June Christy

There's lots of stories in the big city
And two sides to every one
If you've ever been inside a triangle
There's only so far you can run
Alone in the darkness
This tangle of emotions once was home

Love doesn't live here anymore
When did she slip away?
When did trouble walk through the door and stay?
Love doesn't live here anymore

Honey, we both walked in with baggage
Equal parts of hope and fear
We'd help each other break the cycle
And the pain would disappear
Ah, the cost of good intentions
The bags are by the door and fear has conquered all

Lyrics powered by lyrics.tancode.com written by LEHMAN, JOHNNY
Lyrics Â© EMI Music Publishing

Lyrics provided by https://damnlyrics.com/