Soma

Prometheus

The smoking haze of yesterdays Setting dates with early graves These spinning plates will one day break Warning signs tomorrows Running on time borrowed Mother's not married, so father be wary Of what you preach Stay asleep at the wheel and never Care enough The crash is coming Will the end align with my insides Or millions led to no surprise Tidal wave of smoke and haze Quick to have the trigger pulled Who will accountable Brother wears able, 'cause father won't pay for

> What you've done Stay asleep at the wheel and never Care enough The crash is coming Are we destined to see a tragedy? Look away, the crash is coming Mother, daughter, son and father Lead to the slaughter We drink from the water And bleed at the altar You preach with a loaded gun Stay asleep at the wheel and never Care enough The crash is coming Are we destined to see a tragedy? Look away, the crash is coming
