

Come Out of the Shade

The Perishers

Was it love or just something that reminded me of Something that felt a lot like, but wasn't love?
Just friends, friends then until the end
You know I still pretend, just friends Take a step and come out of the shade
I can tell you're no longer afraid
I'm helpless without your warming smile Take a step and come out in the sun
I can tell it's already begun
I'm helpless without your warming smile Was it love? I think it was but I'm far from sure
I'd never felt that way before, was it love?
Just friends, am I a fool to be asking for
A fool to wish that we could be more than friends? Take a step and come out of the shade
I can tell you're no longer afraid
I'm helpless without your warming smile Take a step and come out here in the sun
I can tell it's already begun
I'm helpless without you, helpless without you
Helpless without your warming smile
Your warming smile
