

Gone So Long

Breathe Carolina

My eyes open to the sound of a song I've heard
Don't know the name, but I know all the words

Sun came up, crawled into the front seat
Memories leaving me, was it all a dream I had?

Time for us to wake up
I'll save my words to make the most of it
I never meant to be gone so long
Do you still remember my touch at all?
I never meant to be gone so long

Street lights passing everyone
Gets me a heartbeat closer
To where it started beating
Keep me feeling safe and sound
When everything that's right is upside down
Was it all a dream I had?

Time for us to wake up
I'll save my words to make the most of it
I never meant to be gone so long

(So long) as I have you I'll be home
I never meant to be gone so long
I'm sorry I made you wait
I wish that I could stay
I live for this, but I'd die for you
The world still moves on.

Do you still remember my touch at all?
I never meant to be gone so long
Do you still remember my touch at all?
I never meant to be gone so long

As I have you walk me home
I never meant to be gone so long
Do you still remember my touch at all?
I never meant to be gone so long
