

O' Lady Butterfly

The Anniversary

I think I might move from the city
To get away from everyone
Lady we should move from the city
To get away from everyone Why does your love go numb? (and ain't it strange?)
There's poison in your blood (and ain't it strange?)
I shot your heart and set your spirit free
Don't let your love go numb Troubled man shake off your worries
Or you just might lose your mind
Black bird singing in the country
City love from the blood Why does your love go numb? (and ain't it strange?)
There's poison in your blood (and ain't it strange?)
I shot your heart and set your spirit free
Don't let your love go numb Why does your love go numb? (and ain't it strange?)
There's poison in your blood (and ain't it strange?)
I shot your heart and set your spirit free
Don't let your love go numb I thought I might move from the city
O' Lady Butterfly
