

Falling Down (Crawling Pulse Mix By theStart)

The Birthday Massacre

Farewell, this blackened eye
You learned your lessons falling down
Far behind and tracing footsteps home Despite your lack of pride
You wore your imperfections well
Dignified, spend your time alone
Trace your footsteps home Your hands are always reaching out of favor
Your kind are only good for bad behavior
Your mouth was never one to trust
You're always speaking out, falling far behind
Falling out of line Farewell, this bitter tongue
You spoke your lessons falling down
Talking out and breaking silence Despite the harm you've done
You swallowed your rejection well
Amplified, sing your song alone
Trace your footsteps home Your hands are always reaching out of favor
Your kind are only good for bad behavior
Your mouth was never one to trust
You're always speaking out, falling far behind
Falling Swallow time, falling down
Speaking out, falling far behind
Your time running out and talking down
Falling out of line Your hands are always reaching out of favor
Your kind are only good for bad behavior
Your mouth was never one to trust
You're always speaking out, falling far behind
Falling out of line
