In the Cold Winds of Nowhere

Dissection

Search for my subconscious
Lead me into myself
A need to discover the dark
A will to enter these gates
Oh, this temptation
To end this empty life
In my dreams I saw my real side
A journey through forever
My vision's oh so bright
Watching eternity open
As I turn out life's light
Oh, this temptation
To leave this earthly shell
Deep inside, the toll of death's bell
In the cold winds of nowhere
With a sigh I pass away
Falling, into harmonic sleep
Then I'll find my prophecies wasn't lies
Falling, into the abyss I come...
I... I am dying...
Death... Does heal me...
In the cold winds of nowhere
