

Circus of Your Mind

Paloma Faith

I've had enough
I'm losing my mind
I've spent a life searching for what I'll never find I'm praying for silence or an easy way out Trying to make sense of what is always in doubt I'm turning the pages but nothing changes
The voices in my head won't listen to a word I've said
I know it where it takes me
I'm in a safe place
Here we go again (oh) and again (oh) and again
It's like living on a merry-go-round round and when we seem to go
No one ever seems to know why I'm seeing darkness where the light should be madness taking over me Listen many things you will find in the circus of your mind I've seen enough to last for one life
The pain hidden far between everyone's eyes dream of escape
A sight that's so near I go to a new world where everything's clear Night after night I look to the sky to Help me find a better way save me before it's too late
I know it where it takes me
I'm in a safe place
Here we go again (oh) and again (oh) and again
It's like living on a merry-go-round
round and when we seem to go
No one ever seems to know why
I'm seeing darkness where the light should be
madness taking over me
Listen many things you will find
in the circus of your mind
The most colorful place that I can escape but someday I'll find my way out The item won't open the looking glass is broken I'm shouting out loud but my voice isn't making a sound Ooooooh Ooooooh Ooooooh
Ooooooh Ooooooh Ooooooh
Ooooooh (x2) It's like living on a merry-go-round

round and when we seem to go
I'm seeing darkness where the light should be
madness taking over me
in the circus of your mindIn the circus of your mind (x3)
