

Lot to Learn

Luke Christopher

If I was the question, would you be my answer?
If I was the music, would you be the dancer?
If I was the student, would you be the teacher?
If I was the sinner, would you be the preacher?
Would you be my (dun dun dun)
It's the (dun dun dun)
I still got a lot of shit to learn I'll admit it
It's the (dun dun dun)
I still got a lot of shit to learn I'll admit it
Feeling like a digit in a system,
just another stupid number
I don't know know know
Everything is twisted I can feel it it's another stupid summer
where everything is cold, cold, cold
And we can do it on our own
Head up to a place where baby no one goes
And a rocket full of liquor, a polaroid for pictures
Baby you should stop me, before I lose control
How a perfect a person am I,
go through your purse
and put on your disguise
You see the stars,
but they just see the skies
And you see my scars but what do they see?
If I was the question, would you be my answer?
If I was the music, would you be the dancer?
If I was the student, would you be the teacher?
If I was the sinner, would you be the preacher?
Would you be my (dun dun dun)
It's the (dun dun dun)
I still got a lot of shit to learn I'll admit it
It's the (dun dun dun)
I still got a lot a shit to learn I'll admit it
And the (dun dun dun)
We still got a lot of shit to learn just admit it
And the (dun dun dun)
We still got a lot of shit to learn don't you get it Got your finger on the trigger,
and you aiming at the mirror
Don't you shoot that ain't you,

nah
Cause on the outside you pretend but you hurting in the inner What's the truth,
what's the truth now How a perfect a person am I,
go through your purse
and put on your disguise
You see the stars,
but they just see the skies
And you see my scars what do they see? If I was the question, would you be my answer?
If I was the music, would you be the dancer?
If I was the student, would you be the teacher?
If I was the sinner, would you be the preacher? If I was the question, would you be my answer?
If I was the music, would you be the dancer?
If I was the student, would you be the teacher?
If I was the sinner, would you be the preacher?
Would you be my (dun dun dun)
It's the (dun dun dun)
I still got a lot of shit to learn I'll admit it
It's the (dun dun dun)
I still got a lot of shit to learn I'll admit it
