

Utopia

Ian Thompson

I'd walk that extra mile
If only for a while
I could see the sun light up your smile
Gone is my vanity
Here is your dignity
If only I could somehow set you free
I'd take away all these fears
I'd take away all these tears
I'd walk on broken glass
Through deserts I would pass
To see you walk your broken feet on grass
I'd take away all this pain wont walk away I'll remain
I'd walk that extra mile
If only for a while
I could see the sun light up your smile
All I know is when I hold you in my arms you fill up my heart like nobody else can do nobody else but you, only you, you, only you Utopia I love you.
