Sing When You're In Love

The Enemy

On dance floors from London to Liverpool
In the dark of the night when the air is cool
Out in the street in the pouring rain
In a concrete jungle that echoes your nameIn a hundred hotel rooms where a few hundred sleep
In a thousand cheap boozers where young lovers meet
In a million miles of traffic jams, we waste away time
In a single sad moment when we say our goodbyesSing when you're in love, sing when you're out of love
Sing when you're in love, sing when you're out of loveSing in your bedroom when you go home
Through the broken door to your broken home
Sing to the memory of a different past
Sing to yourself and the bottom of a glassSing when you're in love, sing when you're out of love
Sing when you're in love, sing when you're out of loveSing when you're in love, you're in love, you're in love
Sing when you're out of love
Sing when you're in love, you're in love, you're in love
Sing when you're out of loveNow watch us fall apart, oh here we go
Now watch us fall apart, oh here we go
Now watch us fall apartEvery tear in your eye, every lump in your throat
Every beat in your heart that won't let you let go
(Now watch us fall apart)
Every tear in your eye, every lump in your throat
Every beat in your heart that won't let you let go
(Sing when you're in love)Every tear in your eye, every lump in your throat
Every beat in your heart that won't let you let go
(Sing when you're in love)
Every tear in your eye, every lump in your throat
Every beat in your heart that won't let you let go(Sing when you're in love, you're in love, you're in love)
Every tear in your eye, every lump in your throat
(Sing when you're out of love)
Every beat in your heart that won't let you let goEvery tear in your eye, every lump in your throat
Every beat in your heart that won't let you let go
(Sing when you're in love, you're in love, you're in love)
Every tear in your eye, every lump in your throat
(Sing when you're out of love)
Every beat in your heart that won't let you let goEvery tear in your eye, every lump in your throat
Every beat in your heart that won't let you let go
(Now watch us fall apart)
Every tear in your eye, every lump in your throat
Every beat in your heart that won't let you let go
(Now watch us fall apart)Every tear in your eye, every lump in your throat

Every beat in your heart that won't let you let go
Every tear in your eye, every lump in your throat
Every beat in your heart that won't let you let go
