

You Will Be Mine

The Narrative

Green eyes steady as the room spins, baby from behind your desk and do you know you look so good with your pale skin picketing your bright blue dress but I talked and I learned that my tongue couldn't turn it's tricks on you so I tripped and perspired and fled from your island to plan my next move and all this time I'm waiting for a taste of what you hide but I'll know better when I'm in too deep, you will be mine you will be mine
you will be mine
you will be mine sit tight, baby we'll be just fine slurring over drinks for two but it's only a chase if you've been holding out still even though the wine is tempting you and you talked and you learned that my heart wouldn't turn but it's too late now to lose it's the catch in your speech it's your clothes at your feet and the way you dance to how I groove sorry honey, I'll be late tonight don't wait up for me this time and don't ask what this ring is for I've yet to realize but I'll know better when I'm in too deep, you will be mine
