For Now

Enuff Z'Nuff

Moments like these don't go away
They only get deeper everyday
And when there's just nothing left to say
Moments like these don't go awayFor now the sun don't shine unless you open up your eyes
For now the world won't turn if you should say goodbye
For now I'm the luckiest guy that you're still with me
For now's meant to be
You and mePeople like us don't you ever change
They only get old and rearranged
And when there's no heart left on the stage
People like us, don't you ever changeFor now I couldn't leave, forever if I tried
For now there's no one else or reasons to have lied
For now's enough to expect but expect it from me
For now's meant to be
You and me, for nowNo matter what I do to get through to you
You keep pushing, you keep pushing
Forget the games we played
For now we've got it made
For now's meant to beFor now there's nothing finer than your bedroom eyes
For now you are the sale, there are no better buys
For now's enough just to want if you want it from me
For now's meant to beFor now I couldn't leave, forever if I tried
For now there's no one else or reasons to have lied
For now's enough to expect but expect it from me
For now's meant to be
You and me, for now
You and meFor now we're meant to be
For now we're meant to be
For now we're meant to be
For now we're meant to beMeant to be, oh
For now
For now
For now
