The Obvious

Orgy

Wake me from this altered state My future's looking brighter all the time I'm stumbling and deliriousSome thing's changed since those teenage days I'm growing into my own, I'm the talk of the town Looking strange and I'll say it out loudThere's nothing left to hide When duplicating the obvious And is nothing we decide Like you, like meTwist my words so they read me wrong That truth was never good enough for you Is that the best you can do? Talk me down, look me in my face Look at you now, feeling like the clown Next time you should think it overThere's nothing left to hide When duplicating the obvious When duplicating the obvious And it's nothing we decide Like you, like meWith no reason, you twist my words 'Cause you're helpless, lost in a state of madness In a state of madness, in a state of madnessLost in a state of madness, in a state of madness In a state of madness, lost in a state of madness In a state of madnessLost in a state of madness, lost in a state of madness

Lyrics provided by https://damnlyrics.com/