

Mummified In Barbed Wire

Cannibal Corpse

Wrap the wire round the neck, pull it tight to suffocate
His mouth is spewing steaming blood
Hang the body with a cord, gag his mouth with shards of steel
He doesn't know the pain he'll feel
Interwoven deadly spikes, tightening cables lacerate
Assorted gashes open wide
Ruptured veins are gushing blood, scraps of skin are flying off
The body of the helpless prey
Jagged cable binds, you scream, no escape
Metal barbs tearing at you, rend your flesh
Tear apart the tendons, wire chokes the victim
Shred away his features, shred away his being
Rip the tissue from the body, rend your flesh
Lacerate, sharp spikes rip
Mutilate, pierce the skin
Mummified in the barbed wire
Breathing stops, life expires
Mummified in the barbed wire
Metal binds as you die
Tangled in a web of pain, no escape
Blood seeps through the metal sheath
Saw-like noose
Tear apart the tendons, wire chokes the victim
Shred away his features, shred away his being
Gleaming cords encase the corpse, no escape
Lacerate, sharp spikes rip
Mutilate, pierce the skin
Mummified in the barbed wire
Breathing stops, life expires
Mummified in the barbed wire
Metal binds as you die
Steel wraps your face, blood soaks the steel
Bound in wire, soon to die, life choked out
Bleed to death
Mummified in the barbed wire
