Fallen

Delerium

Do you remember me? I'm just a shadow now This is where I used to be Right here beside youSometimes I call your name High on a summer breeze What I would give to feel the sunlight on my face What I would give to be lost in your embraceI've fallen from a distant star Come back, compelled because of love I'm caught between two different worlds I long for one more night on earthDo you believe in dreams? That's how I found you But I can't be revealed 'Til you take a leap of faithWhat I would give to feel the sunlight on my face What I would give to be lost in your embraceI've fallen from a distant star Come back, compelled because of love I'm caught between two different worlds I long for one more night on earthI've fallen from a distant star Come back, compelled because of love I'm caught between two different worlds I long for one more night on earthI've fallen from a distant star Come back, compelled because of love

Lyrics provided by https://damnlyrics.com/

I'm caught between two different worlds
I long for one more night on earth