

I Don't Want to See Tomorrow

Nat King Cole

(I don't want to see tomorrow,
unless I see it with you.)
Tomorrow, so they say
Will be a lovely day,
A bright new sun will suddenly break through,
But I don't want to see tomorrow,
Unless I see it with you.
Tomorrow, so I hear
The clouds will disappear,
The door to happiness will open wide.
But I don't want to see tomorrow,
Unless you're there by my side.
Don't want to walk alone,
Don't want to dream alone,
Just want you close to my heart.
For if your love is gone,
How can I face the dawn of
Sunday, or Monday?
I just can't face one day...
Until you say you're mine,
Oh, darling, please be mine
And make each bright tomorrow young and new.
But I don't want to face tomorrow
Unless I see it with you.
(Tomorrow, so I hear
The clouds will disappear,
The door to happiness will open wide.)
But I don't want to see tomorrow,
Unless I see it with you.

Songwriters

WAYNE/MORRIS Published by

Lyrics © Sony/ATV Music Publishing LLC, DEMI MUSIC CORP. D/B/A LICHELLE MUSIC COMPANY

Lyrics provided by

<https://damnyrics.com/>