Can You Imagine

Yes

Can you imagine what it's like seeing life
From the other side
Do you imagine darkened light, starless night
You might need a guide
And will the illusion confuse you, play with your thoughts
And alter your mind
Or become a delusion, include you
Change your existence for another kind
See what you see for yourself
'Til your heart is open wide
Wish what you wish for yourself, and you'll find it there
And you'll believe it, and you'll believe it
Can you imagine what it's like, seeing life

From the other side
Do you imagine darkened light, starless night
You might need a guide
And will the illusion confuse you, play with your thoughts
And alter your mind
Or become a delusion, excuse you
Change your existence for another kind
See what you see for yourself
'Til your heart is open wide
Wish what you wish for yourself, and you'll find it here
And you'll believe it, and you'll believe it
And you'll believe it, and you'll believe it
