Subdued & Arrested

Avail

and i wait for an end but what about them
with broken wings
what about them
we've become so indifferent is there a stance one could take to break the infrastructure is there a single thing that you would die for?
when all's said
i don't see what you see but you believe truthfully there's a stance you can take
to break the infrastructure
there's a single thing that you would die for it's blood red
i don't see what you see
but you believe
it's come full circle now they finally came to break the home taking everything to dictate you're not your own your conflicts infinitely built and your reactions may not be sound but they're the only thing between love for family and finding closure now

Lyrics provided by https://damnlyrics.com/