Stronger Love

Joan Armatrading

You won't let me meet all your friends
You say, it's for the best
But my instincts, I always follow
I believe, you're jealousYou use words like a weapon
You want to, cut me down, cut me down
Your affection leaves an emptiness
I need stronger love, stronger loveI want stronger love
Don't want a union made of jealousy
Don't want clinging love
Just want somebody who will take care of meYou get possessive and I get jumpy
I want it simple, I don't want no complication
You get possessive
And I get scaredI want stronger love
Don't want a union made of jealousy
Don't want clinging love
Just want somebody who will take care of meYou won't let me be by myself
You're scared, I won't think of you
But you're wrong, I think of youAll the while your charm is my prison
You smooth take me into staying
But I don't want this clinging love
I need a stronger love, different loveI want stronger love
Don't want a union made of jealousy
Don't want clinging love
Just want somebody, just want somebodyYou don't have to fight me to keep me
Here by your side just be kind
I'll stay with you all the whileI want stronger love
Don't want a union made of jealousy
Don't want clinging love
Just want somebody who will take care of me
Take care of meStronger love
Don't want a union made of jealousy
Don't want clinging love
Just want somebody who will take care of me
Take care of me, take care of me
I want stronger loveTake care of me, take care of me
I want stronger love

Songwriters
JOAN ARMATRADINGPublished by

Lyrics Â© Universal Music Publishing Group

Lyrics provided by https://damnlyrics.com/