Long Way Down

Black Rebel Motorcycle Club

Don't you try to explain all the words
That you've made for love
But you can't even pray
'Cause the words make you frail and hollow
Don't you cry to yourself
Just to feel like someone who's hit bottom
But you can't run away
'Cause the hole that remains will follow
Don't you care just enough
Don't you feel your heart stop
But you can't know what you want
But what matters now is enough
It's a long, a long way down on your own
It's a long, a long way out
It's a long, a long way down on your own
It's a long, a long way out
Don't you sleep in the day
Just to dream it away for good
But I know you're afraid
'Cause the best that you gave was not enough
Don't you care just enough
Don't you feel your heart stop
But you can't know what you want
But what matters now is enough
It's a long, a long way down on your own
It's a long, a long way out
It's a long, a long way down on your own
It's a long, a long way out
