Runaway Love

Diamond Rings

I wanna wake up in a different city
I wanna wake up in another town
I wanna wake up and I want you with me
And I don't want anyone else around.
We could be the only ones who matter
We could be the only ones who know
We could also be a real disaster
But whatever never mind let's go.
When I'm with you all the skies have rainbows
When I'm with you all the clouds have sun
When I'm with you I can take off my clothes
When I'm with you we can both have fun.
You and I can make it extra special
You and I can make it super cool
You and I can beat the extra level
You and I can make or break the rules.
I wanna be the light to your dark
I wanna shine like gold
I wanna burn my name in your heart
I wanna lose control.
Tell me you need me when we're apart

You're what I'm thinking of
You better get set before I start
Running away with love.
So come on I know you have my number
So come on I know you know my name
So come on before I start to wonder
Whether or not we both feel the same
I'll be waiting for you where we started
I'll be waiting right where I belong
I've been waiting ever since we parted
I've been waiting trying to write this song
I wanna be the light to your dark
I wanna shine like gold
I wanna burn my name in your heart
I wanna lose control.
Tell me you need me when we're apart
You're what I'm thinking of

You better get set before I start
Running away with love.(x2)
Running away with love.(x4)
