So Sorry

Feist

I'm sorry Two words I always think After you've gone When I realize I was acting all wrongSo selfish Two words that could describe Oh, actions of mine When patience is in short supplyWe don't need to say goodbye We don't need to fight and cry Oh we, we could Hold each other tight tonightWe're so helpless We're slaves to our impulses We're afraid of our emotions And no one knows where the shore is We're divided by the ocean And the only thing I know is That the answer isn't for us No, the answer isn't for usI'm sorry Two words I always think Oh, after you've gone

When I realize I was acting all wrongWe don't need to say goodbye

We don't need to fight and cry

No, no, we, we could

We could hold each other tight tonight

Tonight, tonight, tonight
