There Is No Good Way to Say I'm Leaving You

Slow Club

On a glass-bottomed boat
You escaped to ballot your vote
On a piece of home-made paper
You were a yes
And you were a noIn wet cement
You drew a line
Dancing across the coals
You ask me to pick a sideIve gotta ruin tonight
Cause theres no good way to say Im leaving you
There is no good way to say Im leaving youYou used to write
You used to paint
You dont say why you stopped
Or if youll start againYour evenings lack their old uniform
Its not hard to think of questions
When answers are all that you wantIve gotta ruin tonight
Cause theres no good way to say Im leaving you
There is no good way to say Im leaving you
