

Rhyme the Rhyme Well

Beastie Boys

Advisory - the following lyrics contain explicit language:

And now, my name is Adrock I've got a story to tell
And when I rock the crowd, well, the crowd we all yell
And when I get the feeling, I feel the feel swell
And when I start to rhyme, well, I rhyme the rhyme well Oh you didn't know I got the flow
I could sing, rap, dance in just one show
With the cornbread stuffin' with the Blimpie Bluffin'
Ooh, that ' Yosi with the fresh muffins
Hey, could you please pass me the peas?
And let me get a tissue if you think you're going to sneeze
I'm the player and the coach, I'm no roach
I bought my grandma a brand new broach Well I'm MCA with a story to tell
When I rock the crowd I rock the crowd well
And when I get the feeling I feel the feel swell
'Cause when I start to rhyme, well, I rhyme the rhyme well 'Cause I'm a craftsman, who ain't fastin'
I'll take you to task, everyone of ya'll draftsman
I'm rehearsin' and ain't maskin'
Bringin' the beat back and keepin' it lastin'
Keepin' it top notch, beyond passing
Simmer in the pan 'cause, I ain't flashin'
I'm party-crashin' so you better batten
Down those hatches stop procrastin' Well I'm Mike D with a story to tell
And when I rock the crowd the crowd we all yell
And when I get the feeling I feel the feel swell
'Cause when I start to rhyme well I rhyme the rhyme well Went to the top and never went pop and Came back down but still not stopping
I'm not even asking, "yo what's cracking?"
Serving MC's on a platter like baked Alaskan
So start packing because I'm back in
The game of hi-phop representing Manhattan
Now push the pause button then start ducking
Shh, you heard me like I'm E.F. Hutton
E.F (shhh)

Hutton
Hutton
Hutton
Hutton

Lyrics provided by
<https://damnlyrics.com/>