

Disappear

Dream Theater

Why, tell me the reasons why
Try, still I don't understand
Will I ever feel this again
Blue sky, I'll meet you in the end
Free them, free the memories of you
Free me, and rest 'til I'm with you A day like today
My whole world has been changed
Nothing you say
Will help ease my pain Turn, I'll turn this slowly round
Burn, burn to feel alive again
She, she'd want me to move on
See me, this place I still belong
Give chase, to find more than I have found
And face, this time now on my own Days disappear
And my world keeps changing
I feel you here
And it keeps me sane
