A Distant Memory

St-Eugene

How long has it been since we last stood
Next to the river by the woods

Throwing rocks at the horizon
Not caring at all
Not caring at all about tomorrow

It is nothing more
It is nothing more than a distant memory
You are nothing more
You are nothing more than a distant memory

Iâ€™m still looking for a place to call home
Iâ€™m still wondering why youâ€™d let me here all alone
You left me down on my knees
I thought that I could succeed

It is nothing more
It is nothing more than a distant memory
You are nothing more
You are nothing more than a distant memory
