

Tell Slater Not to Wash His Dick

Bring Me the Horizon

I've been away for every day and every fucking night,
I've seen your eyes, I've seen your eyes,
I've seen your eyes for every day and every fucking night,
And with every city, it gets harder You've got a mouth like a razor-blade, it cuts so deep,
So kiss my wrists and my neck, give me eternal sleep You say, you say, I'm only a phone call away
But for me, this distance is decay So line my throat with lipstick, and leave my blood for flies,
I'll gurgle the blues under a sea of lies Before you take me to the sea, let me kiss the bride
Before you take me to the sea, let me kiss the bride Now take my body to the shore and I'll wait for the tide
Now take my body to the shore and I'll wait for the tide I will always love you!
But I need pills to sleep
I have always failed you!
So throw away my memories Move! I will always love you!
But I need pills to sleep
I have always failed you!
So throw away my memories
Throw away, away
So throw away my memories
Throw them all away
