

Don't Wanna Lose You

Hudson Moore

Underneath your porch light, sound of rain

Will this be the last time I see you again?

I know I let you down, so many times.

You're only at your limit, I can see it in your eyes.

Â

Â

But if you give me one more chance, I know I can make it right.

I can feel you slipping through my hands, and I don't wanna lose you tonight

No, I don't wanna lose you tonight.

Â

Girl I wouldn't blame you if you walked away.

I'm begging you to hold on.

Don't give up on me.

You know I finally woke up. Now I see the truth.

I've been living for my own life, instead of loving you.

Â

Â

But if you give me one more chance, I know I can make it right.

I can feel you slipping through my hands, and I don't wanna lose you tonight.

Â

But if you give me one more chance, I know I can make it right. I can feel you slipping through my hands, and I don't wanna lose you tonight.

Don't wanna lose you baby.

I can't live without you baby.
