

Great Blacks

Georgia Anne Muldrow

Imma be fine, divine and design
My heart do the beating but the blood ain't mine
My sense of time intertwine deep with the great blacks
So standing in my corner ain't no way you could fake that
No way you could shake that
No way you could take that
I reckon that you paced back
On letting embrace that Imma be fine, divine and design
My heart do the beating but the blood ain't mine
My sense of time intertwine deep with the great blacks
So standing in my corner ain't no way you could fake that
No way you could shake that
No way you could take that
I reckon that you paced back
On letting embrace that Gradually to drastically, changed in deep
I used to roam wild on the one way street
My ethereal son just picked up my tambourine
And put it on my head and he called me a queen Mu direction has shifted From being ignorant and gifted, suicidal and explicit
To being humbly comited, and preferably submissive to the source of all existence I value my life more than ever,
Cause everyday I live is here to get it all together,
Again to all my true friends that let me stay splendid
If your faith in me had ended so would I Imma be fine, divine and design
My heart do the beating but the blood ain't mine
My sense of time intertwine deep with the great blacks
So standing in my corner ain't
No way you could fake that
No way you could shake that
No way you could take that
I reckon that you paced back
On letting embrace that Imma be fine, divine and design
My heart do the beating but the blood ain't mine
My sense of time intertwine deep with the great blacks
So standing in my corner ain't
No way you could fake that
No way you could shake that
No way you could take that
I reckon that you paced back

On letting embrace that Props infinite to poets passed the week four months old excavating brothers number one for thoughts and loving,
Guidance third eye realignment,
I know what it means to be dead out the body,
The truth is here on earth now, and we create it
The great ancestor forced the sister resurrect us
Colon of the heart shows the deeds to be done,
And the sun's here to guide us
Pattern of the so can be recreated with artificial means
Or the bribing of the bias, investors striving for the highes,
To try the breathing exercises Imma be fine, divine and design
My heart do the beating but the blood ain't mine
My sense of time intertwine deep with the great blacks
So standing in my corner ain't
No way you could fake that
No way you could shake that
No way you could take that
I reckon that you paced back
On letting embrace that Imma be fine, divine and design
My heart do the beating but the blood ain't mine
My sense of time intertwine deep with the great blacks
So standing in my corner ain't
No way you could fake that
No way you could shake that
No way you could take that
I reckon that you paced back
On letting embrace that
