Starting Over Again

Dolly Parton

Momma moved out
Daddy sold the house
They split up the money
And went on their wayAnd all the king's horses
And all the king's men
Couldn't put Mommy and Daddy
Back together, againStarting over again
Where should they begin?
'Cause they've never been out on their ownStarting over again
Where do you begin?
When your dreams are all shattered
And the kids are all grown
And the whole world criesGot an apartment
She moved in with her sisters
He's scheming big deals
With one of his friendsWhile she sits at home
Just sorting out pieces
Of left over memories
From thirty odd yearsStarting over again
Where do you begin?
When you've never been out on your own
Starting over again
Never any endWhat will the neighbors say?
They're talking talk, it's small town newsFacing fifty years old
Making up a happy home
And this far down the road
You find yourself alone, two foolsStarting over again
Now, where do you begin?
When you've never been out on your ownStarting over again
Never any end
When your dreams are all shattered
And the kids are all grownAnd all the king's horses
And all the king's men
Could never put Mommy and Daddy
Back togetherBack together, again
