

Falling

Falls

Hey babe, can you hear the sound
Coming from the hills
I sure hear it still
Hey babe, can you feel the wind?
Whistling through the trees
Bringing you back to me
All day long I follow my own directions then
All night long I howl at the moon
Every time I see your reflection now
I could be falling for you
I could be falling for you
Hey babe can you ride the wave
I know I whisper (hate?)
Nothing can be the same
Hey babe, can you hear the sound?
Of this unsung town
Echoes all around
All day long I follow my own directions then
All night long I howl at the moon
Every time I see your reflection now
I could be falling for you
I could be falling for you
I could be falling for you
I could be falling for you
And I can't say, that I can save you
And I can't say, that I can change you
And I can't say, that I won't break your heart
All day long I follow my own directions then
All night long I howl at the moon
Every time I see your reflection now
I could be falling for you
I could be falling for you
I could be falling for you
I could be falling for you
Can you hear the sound
Coming from the hills
I sure hear it still
