Like It Never Happened

Seven Places

Advisory - the following lyrics contain explicit language:

As deep as deep as the ocean floor
As high as high as the eagle soars
As far as far as a falling star can go
You've taken all of my mistakes
And put them anywhere but close
They have gone awayFrom the east to the west
Any height, any depth, that's where it goes
From the ground to the sky
From low to high, that's where it goesYou act just like, like it never happened
Asleep, asleep, asleep, am I in a dream?
You're in this life, someone pinch me
So good, so good, you'd think I would be in a trace
Your forgiving weighs in every circumstanceFrom the east to the west
Any height, any depth, that's where it goes
From the ground to the sky
From low to high, that's where it goesYou act just like, like it never happened
Deep, wide, low, high, my sins are gone away
And if I'm up, down or all around
I can hear you say, "They are gone away"
