

I'll Always Be There For You

Brian McComas

Late night call collect from Arkansas
She said,brother I need your help
She said,there's this boy
And I could tell by the crack in her voiceShe was in real trouble and all by herself
She said,I don't want to be a burden
It's not your problem
Maybe I should just hang upAfter all we're years apart and not much in common
And we haven't kept in touch
And I said,I may have moved away
And I know that on the day I leftI let you down
But your still my baby sister
So always remember it's by blood we are bound
I may be here but I'll always be there for youI know it's bad but you gotta tell mom and dad
You don't have to do this all alone
If I leave right now I should be there by morning
And we can tell them together when I get homeWe'll talk and pray cry a little
We'll work this thing out
We'll stand beside you try to guide you
That's what family's aboutBut it's your decision to make
Six months later on a Sunday morning
That baby girl ws born
And we all stood in wonder around the bedLooking at her in that little pink sleeper
I knew in my heart that she wanted to keep her
But God had a bigger plan instead
A young couple came and I heard my sister say
I just want to give my child the life that she deservesWe all held hands
Then she handed her to them
And we all cried as she whispered these words
I'll think about you everydayI'm only giving you away 'cause I can't raise you now
I brought you into this world
You'll always be my little girl
It's my blood that we are boundI may be here but I'll always be there for you
I may be here but I'll always be there for you

Songwriters

Seskin, Steve / Blackmon, OdiePublished by

Lyrics Â© Kobalt Music Publishing Ltd., SPIRIT MUSIC GROUP Song Discussions is protected by U.S. Patent 9401941. Other patents pending.

Lyrics provided by
<https://damnlrics.com/>