Silver Sky

nano

So long, light of dawn darkness, take me in soundlessly holding on

In the depths silent world, long ago all that will remain broken heart, farewell

Memories of better days locked within in hopes that we will remember someday we may wake to find sunrise

Silver sky, falls upon you and I another hope fades away into night distant melodies, a sweet lullaby will lead me to you

Firefly, glows upon you and I another hope fades away into the lonely night when morning comes, the gentle voice will lead you to the light

Close your eyes as the stars grow dim she whispers now, an everlasting vow Have faith in your heart when hope is forgotten Follow the twilight

Silver sky, falls upon you and I
another hope fades away into night
distant melodies, a sweet lullaby
will lead me to you

Firefly, glows upon you and I
another hope fades away into the lonely night
to the light
