

Anthem

Pailhead

This is the anthem
You are in control of your thinking
You are responsible for your actions
You create your own limitations
You know well the situation
This world is brokenThis is the anthem
You are in control of your thinking
You are responsible for your actions
You create the limitations
You know well the situation
This world is brokenYou will catch it, you will catch it
You will catch it with your head
You will catch it with your head when it fallsYou've always said, you've always said that I
You've always said that I talk too much
That I talk too muchI don't give a fuck what you say
This is the anthem, you don't like it
Don't sing the fuck out of my faceThis is my song, not your song
This is fascism, this is fascism
This is fascism, this is fascismYou will catch it, you will catch it
You will catch it with your head
You will catch it with your head
You will catch it with your head when it fallsYou will catch it, you will catch it
You will surely catch it with your head
You will catch it
You will [Incomprehensible] with your head
You will [Incomprehensible] with your head
You will [Incomprehensible] with your head when it fallsI don't wanna be your villain no more
I don't wanna be your villain no more
I don't wanna be your villain no more
I don't wanna be your villain no more
I don't wanna be your villain no more
