I Can Change

Shane Nicholson

I could be a stranger and never know your name
I could be a hero and never take the blame
But I can change, I can changeI could be a pistol that aims at anyone
I could be some justice for all the shit you've done
But I can change, I can changeSo if you wanna blow this world apart
If you wanna go back to the start
If you wanna leave me out of range
Know that I can changeI could be a song that never plays in tune
I could be a flower that never comes in bloom
But I can change, I can changeI could be a mountain standing in your way
I could be a river that dries up every day
But I can change, I can changeSo if you wanna blow this world apart
If you wanna go back to the start
If you wanna leave me out of range
Know that I can changeI could be a failure and I could be a waste
I could be a mirror to every fear you've faced
But I can change, I can changeSo if you wanna blow this world apart
If you wanna go back to the start
If you wanna leave me out of range
Know that I can change
Just know that I can change
