Get Enough

Crawdad Republic

Down by the river, witch doctor drew some blood.
He said, "Child what ails you?" I said, "I can never get enough."So, I waded through the current, dirty water in my cup, drank it down with a shiver, cause I can never get enough.Wash it down, welcome my predicament. Take the bait set the hook.
And now I've found that I am bound to my ambivalence, just a ripple in the brook.Down by the river, I'd finally woken up.
I still taste the past but can't remember what I'd swallowed in that cup.So, I rose up to the surface, began to sober up, opened my eyes awoke my senses, cause I could never get enough.Wash it down, welcome my predicament.
Take the bait set the hook.
And now I've found that I am bound to my ambivalence, just a ripple in the brook.Because I scuffed my boots in the parking lot, gotta get money while the gettin's hot.
Well my girl stood up she walked out my door.
I can never get enough I will always need more.
I got a .38 caliber at my side tryin' to make waves in the coming tide.
Got them lawmen kickin' on down my door,
I can never get enough I will always need more.Wash it down, welcome my predicament. Take the bait set the hook.
And now I've found that I am bound to my ambivalence,
just a ripple in the brook.

Lyrics provided by https://damnlyrics.com/