Angel

Madina Lake

You've gotten good at being alone
But that's no life for such a beautiful soul
This road is longer than I ever knew
But tonight I'm coming home to see you
We've got tonight, little angel
We'll sleep under a blanket of stars.
We've got tonight, little angel
And we'll forget tomorrow
I'll be gone.
What's on your mind that I don't know?
Your eyes are wandering like never before.
And then it hit me like a ton of stones,
that I'm the only one that was still in love.
Where did it go, little angel?

Where did all your love for me go?
Because we still had forever,
and forever's something I can't face alone.
Where did it go?
Where did all your love for me go?
So I slam my head into a wall 'til every thought of you falls out.
But there's one thought left, and it's killing me
And I just have to know...
Where did it go, little angel?
Where did all your love for me go?
Because we still had forever,
and forever's something I can't face alone.
Where did it go, go?
Where did it go?
Where did all your love for me go?

Lyrics provided by
https://damnlyrics.com/