

Gravity

John Amos

There's a place inside you babe
I never go there, I don't dare Cold and distant
I can't find you anywhere

You say that's just the way it is But that's not the way it seems I could believe you, but it's rare I get this wrong

I try to pull myself away
I go home and that's where I should stay You pull me back like gravity

You're the best I've ever seen but there's nothing you could dream that could make you understand the way it is

It's just a different point of view
The way the moon looks at the sea that's the way you look at me when you look now

I try to pull myself away
I rise up and then I break like waves and you pull me back like gravity

Who am I to fight the wind the space around you spirals in I fall faster when I try to fly

The circle always turns again You open up and let me in You always cut me then you hold me to your heart

I try to pull myself away
I rise up and then I break like waves
and you draw me back like gravity

Awwwwwww baby

Awwwwwahh baby
