Easy to Love

Alana Davis

Like a sparrow with a wounded wing
Left all alone to a tree I'll sing
But it can't respond to my melody
And it can't lend me harmony
It's just one my one thin lonely voice
And it's not my choice to be alone
But I've come too far now to go back homeOn my own it's no fun to roam
I've got to find me someone to be around
When all these blues get me down
Maybe you've got the time
Maybe you'll share yourself with me
I don't need to call you mineJust like you, babe, I need to be free
And just like you, babe, I need to be me
Just like you, baby, I would be so easy to loveI don't want someone to watch over me
I don't care about the holes in your jeans
You just come and you do what you do
And could you be there, baby, when I call for you
I could use some peace of mindIt's not my choice to be alone
But I've come to far now to run back home
On my own it's no fun to roamI've got to find me someone to be around
When all these blues get me down
Maybe you've got the time
Maybe you'll share yourself with me
I don't need to call you mineJust like you, baby, I need to be free
Just like you, baby, I need to be me
Just like you, baby, I would be so easy to love
