Advisory - the following lyrics contain explicit language:

Above the garage
You climbed up the stairs
Welcome to no good (whoa-oh-oh-oh)
(Whoa-oh-oh-oh)
I led you up there
But you were too young
Welcome to no good (whoa-oh-oh-oh)
Just remember that we all make mistakes and know (whoa-oh-oh-oh)
One big slip-up makes it all, all go away
You stepped over the line
And whose side are you on?
I know where I stand
And I don't blame you (and I stand up to you)
We spent too long in another world (Just remember that we all make mistakes
And that I--I'm not going away)
One big slip-up nearly took it away
No, No
No, I don't blame you
That would do no good
And thank hell that we're moving on, moving on
I used to hate myself just a little for that
I stepped over the line
But whose side are you on?
I know where I stand
I, I need you
But it's not normal
If I refuse
To be by myself
I, I need you
And it's not normal
If I refuse
To be by myself

Above the garage
You climbed up to sin
And up into no good (whoa-oh-oh-oh)
Just remember that we all make mistakes and know (whoa-oh-oh-oh)
One big slip-up makes it all go away
I led you up there
And lied I love you
(I love you)
You know I do (I do)
Just remember that we all make mistakes and know (I...)
One big slip-up makes it all go away (I...)
You stepped over the line
But whose side are you on?
I know where I...
I, I need you
But it's not normal
If I refuse
To be by myself
I, I need you
And it's not normal
If I refuse
To be by myself
