

Stay

World5

The sea is calling me across so many miles
I can almost smell the salty air
I see your picture in my mind, it makes me smile
I run my fingers through my hair
Headed south to where the land meets the sea
Where the friendly trade winds greet me
I find comfort when the sand's beneath my feet
Will you still be there to meet me?
Stay, stay, Senorita, won't you stay
I'm coming back to find you, I can't wait another day
Can you hear me calling out your name
And will you wait for me
Please wait for me
Longing for the moment I can see your face
With eyes that sparkle like the ocean
Under a moonlit sky two silhouettes embrace
Calming the seas of our emotions
Stay, stay, Senorita, won't you stay
Without you in my life, it just hasn't been the same
Say you'll stay, stay, I'll be home today
We'll dance to the marimba, and in the waves we'll play
Can you hear me calling out your name
And will you wait for me
Please wait for me
Stay, stay, Senorita, won't you stay
I'm coming back to find you, I can't wait another day
Can you hear me calling out your name
And will you wait for me
Please wait for me
I will stay, stay, Senorita, I will stay
I came back and found you, and I'll never go away
We will stay, stay, forever we will stay
The tides of love have pulled us back together
