Faith Works

Bobby Lee

Faith, works and unconditional love -
No bad mind, no hatred, no envy and no grudge.
Babylon destroy, your minds they want to corrupt,
But InI have got to reach the higher heights up above.Things will never be the same,
Old doors close, new doors opening.
The life we led in the past, we've got to rearrange;
People treat life as it is a game.
Work hard to change the people's mentality,
The way the world is going now, it's insanity.
Live the life you love and don't go on so greedy,
Help the children to grow up and things will change speedily withFaith, works and unconditional love
No bad mind, no hatred, no envy and no grudge.
Babylon destroy, your minds they want to corrupt,
But InI have got to reach the higher heights up above.Hit the street and give a hand to those you meet who need your speech to lift their feet to rise and drag them selves from the mud.
Be discreet so you won't ever meet defeat for Jah will seat we won't retreat and Babylon can't come out on top.
Faith without works that is death, when you work you breathe hard so InI give thanks for every breath.
I only fear is Jah judgment.
Try your best to live upright so that you don't end up in hell with.Faith, works and unconditional love
No bad mind, no hatred, no envy, and no grudge.
Babylon destroy your minds they want to corrupt,
But InI have got to reach the higher heights up above.If a hawk can fly and show it's love with songs of praise and giving thanks along 395's polluted 10-lane highways - And if a man like twice your age can clean your house for minimum wage and still somehow greet life with a big smile on his face...
Then why can't we just show respect for all things with no neglect and realize that love it is the only way?
Then why can't we accept the fact we're lucky, we need to give back - we're foolish for not humbling ourselves every day withFaith, works and unconditional love

No bad mind, no hatred, no envy, and no grudge.
Babylon destroy your minds they want to corrupt.
But InI have got to reach the higher heights up above.
