

Fracture

King Crimson

When the light's out and all of the fracturing starts You're just paying for some action you lost in the dark
You come down, holding tight, to the railing on the side
You stayed up, left to dry, Now you're crumbling
Now your guard's down and all of your timing has gone

You were patient
'till earth swallowed the last of the sun
You come down, holding tight, to the railing on the side
You stayed up, left to dry, Now you're crumbling
It's not complex, see all of the signs flashing on You're just paying, for all of the bad you have done

Lyrics provided by

<https://damnlyrics.com/>