Image Is Nothing, Lobsters Are Everything

Reggie and the Full Effect

Closed doors won't open up for you, not now, not anymore
You're not the person that you used to be
You light a cigarette and say that it won't satisfy you
Like you just aren't satisfying meWhat can I do?
What can I say to you?
To try an' figure out whatever's on your mind
I think there's something I'm supposed to seeRead me that open book that I've been waiting for so long
You've checked it out while checking out with meWhat will I do?
What will I say?
Been here before each and every day
Know that you'll just run awayWhat will I do?
What will I say?
Been here before each and every day
Know that you'll just run away
