Again and Again

Status Quo

Once upon a time not so very long ago

There wasn't such a thing as a rock 'n' roll show

You had to sit at home and listen to the radioThen came a man with a rockin' guitar

Found himself a beat and he played it near and far

Everybody danced and sang and let the good times rollAgain, again, again

Why don't you do it, why don't you do it again?

Again, again, again, again, again, again, again

Why don't you do it, why don't you do it again? He traveled 'round the world in a rock 'n' roll band

He stood there like a giant with a guitar in his hand

Everybody danced and sang and let the good times rollNobody cared about the clothes he would wear Nobody cared about the color of his hair

Everybody came to see and let the good times rollAgain, again, ag

Again, again, again, again, again, again, again

Why don't you do it, why don't you do it again? Now we've got the rhythm in us, now we've got the rock

Time didn't matter, never living by the clock

Everybody came to hear him playing his rock 'n' rollThen came a line when the music didn't rhyme He couldn't find the rhythm 'cause he couldn't find the time

But still the people came to listen to the good times rollAgain, again, again,

Again, again, again, again, again, again, again

Why don't you do it, why don't you do it again? Again, aga

Why don't you do it, why don't you do it again?

Why don't you do it, why don't you do it again?
