Dearest Darkest

Vaux

The blackest hair, her lips and her skin so pale
Push back the chair, and go introduce myself
She can't play fair, and i'm in no hurry to fail
Her hand in mine, but she's the one leading
We're quite the pair, despite the fact that i'm lost
And i don't care she hates the sun and the cross
Go anywhere ware i'd follow no matter the cost
To be with her for just one more evening
Why, she's scared of the lights
Please, she hates all your gods
But, she's the one
Cause she wants it all and let her have it
It's too late for me
Start begging mercy
Now that you've got it all
It's time that i pay the price but she only makes love to the darkest nights
The streets are dark, but ever since the sun's gone down
I hear you walk, your steps follow me around
Deep in the park, is where my dead body is found
Her finger prints are all over the scene
If walls could talk they'd tell a story tonight
She stole my heart and drank 'til the skin turned white
A fatal kiss that left my neck bleeding.
