Breaking Away

Avantasia

Don't wait my friend, we better don't think twice Time to fell the prison guard, you gotta realize No turning back again, therefore it's all too late New horizons waitI know the time has come to leave your past behind And now the time has come to stop them controlling your mindBreaking away All we can do now is break away Otherwise she will be dying While both of us are lying here in chainsBreaking away All we can do now is break away Oh, otherwise she will be dying While both of us are lying caught in chains Breaking awayAlways been a novice in quest for paradise Hope they will forgive me for I apostatize I can't be no hypocrite, can't wear a masquerade New horizons waitAnd now the time has come to go another way To learn for life and to grow ripe and prevent the decayBreaking away All we can do now is break away Otherwise she will be dying While both of us are lying here in chainsBreaking away All we can do now is break away Oh, otherwise she will be dying While both of us are lying here caught in chainsBreaking away It is so hard to lay down what I've been But I must go even if my way leads to HadesBreaking away All we can do now is break away Oh, otherwise she will be dying While both of us are lying caught in chainsBreaking away All we can do now is break away
