

Like A Military Coup

Morcheeba

When the tower tumbled, we began anew
Had no time for warning, only deja vu
It comes flashing back, then just fades to black

All gone

All the land rejoices, now the coast is clear
No more silent voices to whisper in your ear
I am in my element with a panoramic view
There's no inspiration like a military coup
Children blowing kisses, strangers to the truth
Carrying the wishes of a bygone youth
Bye bye cabaret, sci-fi agony

All gone

All the land rejoices, now the coast is clear
No more silent voices to whisper in your ear
I am in my element with a panoramic view
There's no compensation like a military coup
A mellow melody, rolling endlessly
How long, how long, how long
